INED visits the GGP in the Hague

In February, the GGP hosted a collaborative two-day workshop with our colleagues from INED. The workshop focused on operational aspects of the GGS-II, specifically addressing fieldwork methodologies and post-fieldwork procedures in preparation for the upcoming GGS-II Wave 2.

The sessions included discussions on optimizing workflow integration, structural considerations for GGS-II Wave 2 and insights from country-led data collection and how to harmonise these initiatives with GGS standards. If you would like to know more about the topics discussed during the visit, you can find an impression on the GGP's website here.

The workshop facilitated improved collaboration between the teams and offered a platform for addressing crucial operational challenges to align strategies for the execution of GGS-II Wave 2.

GGP-Connect Insight and Impact Austria

The latest instalment of the GGP-Connect Insight and Impact series took place on February 22nd at 13:00, where the Austrian team discussed the project phases, key findings, and future prospects of GGS-II Austria.

In the insightful presentation, Norbert Neuwirth and Isabella Buber-Ennser delved into the project phases of GGP.at during 2022 and 2023, showcasing selected results from the GGP.at brochure 'Families in Austria - Partnerships, Fertility Intentions and Economic Situation in Challenging Times.'

The brochure revealed essential insights into family dynamics, partnership trends, fertility intentions, economic situations, overall well-being, and the impact of crises on individuals' lives in Austria.

The presentation also explored ongoing GGS-based studies and the Austrian team's experiences with dissemination to policy-makers and the general public. The presentation concluded with a discussion on future prospects for GGS-II Austria. Click here to learn more about the achievements of GGP Austria!

Funding secured for GGS-II Poland

We are pleased to announce that the Polish Generations and Gender Programme (GGP-PL) at the Warsaw School of Economics has successfully secured funding for the new round of GGS-II under the project "GGP-PL: Generations and Families. Panel study on changing relations between generations, within the family, and between women and men."

This funding, provided by the Polish Ministry of Science program "Support for the Participation of Polish Scientific Teams in International Research Infrastructure Projects," will support the activities of the GGP-PL, led by Monika Mynarska, for the next five years. The grant will facilitate two full waves of GGS-II and an in-between local survey, with anticipated data collection scheduled to commence by the end of 2024. Furthermore, the funding will support activities aimed at disseminating the data and fostering its broader accessibility and utilization within the research community and beyond.

Call for applications for Transnational Access Visits

The fifth call for the COORDINATE Transnational Access Visits is open for applications. The call is aimed at researchers and policy practitioners in the area related or adjacent to children and/or youth wellbeing as well as methodological aspects of cohort and longitudinal studies. The programme enables participants to visit a research infrastructure and access the most relevant European birth cohort, panel and cross-sectional survey data. Accepted applicants will have the opportunity to spend from one to three working weeks at one of the eight partner institutions, gain access to data, conduct their own research, benefit from the support of local experts, and expand their skills. Previous calls have shown that close to 75% of applications are successful. Applicants' travel costs, accommodation, and subsistence will be reimbursed as specified in the call.

GGP community members are especially encouraged to apply with projects using GGS data to visit the GGP CCT at NIDI in the Hague.

The deadline for application is April 1st, 2024. More information on the call and how to apply can be found here.

Updates from the GGP Central Hub

Fieldwork progress in Taiwan is on track, with over 4,000 completed CAWI interviews and a response rate of approximately 10%. In April, Taiwan will transition to the CAPI mode for data collection. Meanwhile, Italy and Poland are in preparation for the baseline wave (GGS-II Wave 1).

As for the follow-up wave, Norway is set to commence fieldwork in April, exclusively using CAWI as the data collection mode. Moldova and Estonia are also preparing for their follow-up wave fieldwork and will start data collection shortly.

GGP User Space is under renovation

The GGP User Space is being upgraded. Over the past few weeks, we made significant changes to the GGP User Space to enhance the platform's user experience and functionality.

The modifications include a fresh appearance for the GGP User Space and a redesigned registration process. Alongside downloadable datasets, you will now find a link to their documentation in the GGP Colectica Portal. The upgrade also introduces a more efficient data access procedure. Users can now conveniently sign the majority of forms to request access to the data online, significantly reducing wait times and administrative obstacles.
